

Explore Blue City

Established in 1459 A.D. by Rao Jodha, the city treats its travelers with the grandeur of the past by offering them a few alternatives for touring in Jodhpur. If you are love to explore a sneak look into the past period, visit Jodhpur. Among very much wanted spots to visit in Jodhpur are royal residences, forts, places of worship, historical centers, and gardens that expressive the past greatness.

Mehrangarh Fort And Museum

Among the best Jodhpur traveler spots to visit, it was worked around 1460 A.D. by Rao Jodha, Mehrangarh Fort is recorded among the most eminent hill posts of Rajasthan. No wonder, it is probably the best spot to visit in Jodhpur, Rajasthan. Standing just about 100 feet over the city horizon, the fort is fabricated so immaculately that you won't have the option to make out where the hill closes and the dividers start making it probably the best spot to find in Jodhpur. Unsurpassable and impressive, this glory in red sandstone is enclosed by a capricious marvel. Obviously, when explorers anticipate the most striking vacation destinations in Jodhpur, this post is the preeminent decision. It's immense, thick dividers shock you with fabulous royal residences inside that are ornamented with complicated carvings. The huge structure additionally brags of a gallery that presentations entrancing and valuable works of art of incredible authentic worth. It additionally welcomes you to an encounter of a lifetime with its few social celebrations, for example, the yearly Rajasthan International Folk Festival in October and the World Sufi Spirit Festival in February. Along these lines, while making your rundown of Jodhpur tourist spots, passing up this wonder in stone is a Big No!

Jaswant Thada

Your Mehrangarh visit is coupled with an excursion to Jaswant Thada that is positively among the best Jodhpur traveler spots to visit. As both the landmarks are at a short distance, these are tourist spots to visit in Jodhpur in one day. Standing contiguous Mehrangarh Fort, this is a bunch of glorious cenotaphs in white marble. Worked in 1899 A.D. in memory of Maharaja Jaswant Singh II, the primary cenotaph of these holds pictures of different Rathore rulers. While visiting places in Jodhpur, at this spot, you will feel serenity all around. Additionally, you will understand that it is all the more of a temple where perished rulers are adored. This is the most well-known tourist spot in Jodhpur. Otherwise called the Taj Mahal of Marwar, carvings of this landmark are delightfully unpredictable. A fabulous staggered garden, a lake, and flawlessly cut gazebos complex its appeal. Visit it on a bright day to view its magnificence in full sprout. At the point when it is kissed by the sun rays, the amazingly slender marble sheets, of which it is made up, gleam brilliantly. Make a desire here. Local people accept that the landmark gives your desires.

Umaid Bhawan Palace

A beautiful palace constructed in 1929 is home to three sections namely the royal family's residence, Taj Palace Hotel, and a Museum. It showcases a mixture of both Indian as well as European architecture. It is built on the highest point in the city of Jodhpur and is the world's largest private residence. The hotel is maintained by the Taj group of hotels and is open to guests only. The museum is open to the public whereas the royal residence area is restricted. One can have a look at the vintage car collections as well as the clock collection that has been displayed inside the museum.

Rao Jodha Desert Rock Park

Built-in 2006 to preserve the ecology of the rocky wasteland from the baawlia, it is spread over 72 hectares near the Mehrangarh fort and includes an outdoor cafe, restroom and souvenir shops. One can find here numerous native plant nurseries having more than 80 species of plants. If you love watching birds then this place serves you well as you can also spot reptiles, migratory birds and butterflies. It is recommended to wear comfortable and light clothes as well as shoes to beat the heat and uneven terrain of the place.

Kaylana Lake

It is a 145-year-old lake surrounded by babool trees and is a delightful retreat to the tourists. One can do boat riding and have a look at the colorful sky above and also spot birds like the Siberian Crane. The best time to visit the lake is during the months of January to March or October to December. The tourists are advised not to visit the lake after the sunset hours as it gets quite dark and can be dangerous.

Mandore Garden

Situated 9 km from north of Jodhpur is this beautiful place that was once the capital of Pratiharas. Mandore Gardens is one of the most wonderful place to visit in Jodhpur city. Jodhpur touring is incomplete without visiting these gardens. Overflowing with cenotaphs, old sanctuaries, and a few other Madore Garden is another great place to take you for an excursion back in time. The lobby of saints, committed to Rajput society legends and a few deities, stands near the cenotaphs. Their sculptures are cut in stone and ostentatious. The Shrine of the Three Hundred Million Gods is another fascination of this garden. Move up the hill to examine the destroyed city of Mandore with its old royal residence. Furthermore, be careful with langur monkeys in this garden. They mess about in crowds. There is also a Hall of Heroes that commemorates the Rajput and folk heroes. To explore more one can also spend time in the Government museums that include relics and artifacts. To have a look at the old remains of the place you can climb the hill and have a glimpse.

Chamunda Mata Temple

Chamunda Mata Temple is extremely huge to the way of life of the city and for the individuals of Jodhpur. Situated toward the finish of the Mehrangarh Fort, the temple offers excellent views and is known to spare the city from all the difficulties. It is said that the rulers and sovereigns used to visit the fort for the day by day contributions. The temple was built by Rao Jodha who established an idol of Chamunda Mata here. This place attracts tourists as well as locals due to the fact that it offers a view of the Umaid Bhawan as well as the Mehrangarh fort. The place gets crowded mostly during Dussehra when people come here to offer worship. It is one of the must-visit travel places in Jodhpur for a quiet excursion. To get the best view and positive vibes from this place it is suggested to visit during the sunrise.

Fort Chanwa

Situated in Luni close to Jodhpur in Rajasthani, Fort Chanwa is a brilliant example of class, eminence and design of the only remaining century. Developed by Maharaja Manish Soni several years prior, the post has of late been changed over into an extravagance legacy inn by its proprietors Maharaja Dalip Singh and Rani Madhu Devi. Set in the scenery of the Thar Desert, the fortification stands as a declaration to the formal attire and sovereignty of the former time with its detailed parapets, manicured gardens, cut cross-section work friezes and Jharokas (or galleries). With an ideal amalgamation of cutting edge offices and a tinge of the old world appeal, the hotel furnishes you with a conventional Rajasthani experience. The stunning insides and unrivaled administrations and accommodation by the staff are unquestionably going to be an experience of a lifetime for you. After you are finished taking a tour through the terrific castle, you can also dare to explore the nearby attractions like Mehrangarh Fort, Luni River, Urban Haat, Flying Fox and so on.

Mahamandir Temple

This temple was built in 1812 and is an excellent architectural place to visit in Jodhpur, devoted to Lord Shiva. Found approximately two kilometers from Jodhpur out and about towards Mandore, it is an exceptionally large temple with 84 columns which are an amazing sight. Other significant temples of Jodhpur include Chamunda Mataji Temple which is situated inside the Mehrangarh Fort, Baba Ramdev Temple, Ganesh Temple and Pal Balaji Temple. You should visit here for inner peace.

Rai Ka Baag Palace

Constructed in 1663 by the queen of Maharaja Jaswant Singh-I, Hadiji, Rai ka Baag Palace is one of the mainstream tourist destinations of Jodhpur. The royal residence is octagonal fit as a fiddle and as of now, it houses the annual expense office of Jodhpur. You should visit here once!

Splash- The Fun World

Sprinkle - The Fun World is situated on the Sarkhej Sanand Road close to Jodhpur. Spread over an area of 12 sections of land, the recreation center offers the serene condition genuinely necessary in the hustle of the bustling city. It gets an enormous flood of localities and holiday goers the same.

Sheesh Mahal

A characteristic highlight of the imperial Rajput architect, the Sheesh Mahal in the Mehrangarh Fort of Jodhpur is a treat to the eye of the viewer. Also called Glass Palace of Jodhpur, this magnificent bit of design is decked from the roof to floor with complex mirror work. These enriching adornments are supplemented well with the brilliantly shaded canvases of different strict figures made in mortar. The various ornamental boards show deities like Lord Brahma, Lord Shiva and Parvati, Lord Krishna playing the flute, and Lord Rama among others demonstrating the solid impact of religion and culture on the specialty of the time. The roofs and floors are decorated with mirrors, gaining the room the title of Hall of Mirrors. The blue, green, silver, and gold decorations suspended on the roof just as the excellent European light fixture are later augmentations to this corridor. Mehrangarh's Sheesh Mahal was the bedchamber of Maharaja Ajit Singh who ruled over Jodhpur somewhere in the range of 1679 and 1724.

Shastri Circle

If you are looking for a place to chill following a monotonous day of touring, then Shastri Circle ought to be a place on your list. An exuberant and energetic piece of the city, it is viewed as a loosening up joint spot by local people. The nights see a melodic wellspring appear with lights to jazz it up. There are numerous restaurants encompassing this zone and a play area with swings and stops for youngsters. This is a perfect spot for voyagers to take a break from all the places of interest and simply appreciate a loose and engaging night when in the city of Jodhpur. Post 6:30 PM, there is a passage charge as the light show and musical fountains are organized out as entertainment. There is also horse riding and a walking track. So, how could you miss this scenic place? Visit here once!

World Sacred Spirit Festival

The World Sacred Spirit Festival is held in Jodhpur every year, normally in the month of February. The celebration unites Sufi, the world, society just as traditional music styles all on one phase. It is a significant group puller and is gone to by fans from everywhere throughout the world. What could be better than seeing sweet exhibitions with the memorable and grand Mehrangarh Fort in the setting? This is one occasion that no music sweetheart can pass up. The tickets for the equivalent can be reserved online on different booking motors. Along with local artists, different worldwide dance, song, and instrumental specialists additionally get their gifts to the stage. The entire celebration is established in 'Bhakti' custom that the acclaimed Indian female holy person, Mirabai, praises in her couplets. The whole experience is other-worldly and lives well up to its name! Probably you don't want to miss it!

Masuriya Hill Garden

Located on the highest point of Masuriya hills, this garden is known for offering a 360 degree view of the city of Jodhpur that anyone would kick the bucket for. In addition to this, it offers lavish greenery and an abundance of flora. In the garden, you will also find a sculpture of Veer Durgadas Rathore who was one of the progressives in the Marwari people group. Without a doubt, it is a standout amongst other visitor places in Jodhpur. Have a Happy Vacations!